Wayne County Manager Announces Retirement

Wayne County, NC – County Manager George A. Wood announced his retirement effective December 31, 2017. Mr. Wood presented a formal letter to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners during their regular meeting earlier Tuesday. The advanced notice will allow the Board of Commissioners the time to have a county manager and assistant county manager in place on January 1, 2018.

County Manager Wood expressed his appreciation to the Board of Commissioners for their confidence in him and praised the board for the multitude of improvements in county government during their tenure. He also noted the improvements in the working relationships between the Board of Commissioners and the Board of Education, Wayne Community College, Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, and the municipalities, especially the City of Goldsboro.

Mr. Wood has served in the County Manager position since 2014, following a brief stint at the county's interim manager.
